Syllabus for the AP French Language and Culture Course

Course Overview and Learning Objectives

As per the course Curriculum Framework: The AP French Language and Culture Course is an exploration of culture in both contemporary and historical contexts of the French-speaking world. The course develops students' awareness and appreciation of the products, practices, and perspectives of francophone cultures. Students who achieve a 3, 4 or 5 on the exam may receive several semesters' worth of college credit.

This course is designed to prepare students to communicate proficiently through the three modes of communication (Interpersonal, Interpretive and Presentational) as defined in the "Standards for Foreign Language Learning in the 21st Century". For this reason, the course will be conducted entirely in French. Course work will provide students with opportunities to achieve the Course Overarching Premise: "When communicating, students in the AP French Language and Culture course will demonstrate an understanding of francophone cultures, incorporate interdisciplinary topics (connections), make comparisons between their native language and French and between cultures (comparisons), and use the target language in real-life settings (communities)."

Course materials will include the primary textbook Thèmes, films, songs, literary texts, and other authentic materials and resources from francophone websites and publications. Students are expected to take the AP French Language and Culture exam at the end of this course.

Teaching Strategies

Our class is conducted entirely in French. Students will demonstrate their proficiency in spoken interpersonal communication through class discussions of readings and films; through oral interviews with one another; through "conversations dirigées"; through conversations with one another, with guest speakers (especially with the founder and executive director of our partner organisation, Aumazo, which is building a school in Cameroon), and with French students (when students from our exchange school in Fort de France, Martinique come to visit); etc. These activities both prepare students to use the target language in real-life settings and give them opportunities to do so in authentic, meaningful ways.

Students will demonstrate their proficiency in written interpersonal communication through emails, interactive blogs and letter writing. Students will be able to correspond with students in our partner school in Fort de France, Martinique. They also regularly correspond with the director of Aumazo and others in the organisation (see above).

Students will demonstrate their ability in interpretive communication through the viewing and discussion of films, through podcasts which include interviews, instructions and presentations and music. Students will also compare and contrast a written story with a related video. We will also be watching and analyzing short films, courts métrages. Thèmes offers the following short-subject films, one per theme: On s'embrasse?; “Découverte: Solar Impulse; Le Petit Cyrano; Sois mignonne; La dame dans le tram; and Rien à dire. See below for how I integrate the films into the study of each theme.

Students’ ability to synthesize information will be demonstrated by answering comprehension questions, by discussion of their personal reactions, and through formal essays which may require incorporating new vocabulary.

Students will demonstrate their proficiency in spoken presentational communication through oral presentations and skits. Students will demonstrate their proficiency in written presentational communications through formal essays that synthesize authentic listening and reading sources such as those from the Thèmes textbook.

Students will demonstrate an understanding of the products, practices and perspectives of francophone cultures through research on the customs and culture of a selected francophone country. Findings will be presented to the class and students will be asked to compare their own culture to the culture in question. Students will be encouraged to further research the various cultures presented in each unit of Thèmes.

While activities vary from week to week, certain assignments and assessments will be scheduled regularly. These may include thematic vocabulary quizzes, and grammar assessments as per student needs. Summatives will allow students to answer the Essential Questions used to open each theme via integrated performance assessments which may be scored using the appropriate exam Scoring Guideline and which will give students ample practice with tasks like formal emails, persuasive essays, impromptu interpersonal speaking, and cultural comparison presentations.

Course Format and Policies

Throughout the course, the following six themes will be addressed via lessons on sub-themes/topics: 1) Families and Communities, 2) Science and Technology, 3) Beauty and Aesthetics, 4) Contemporary Life, 5) Global Challenges, and 6) Personal and Public Identities. Activities may include journaling, blogging, interactive exercises such as interviews with one another using new vocabulary, oral and written presentations, compositions, emails, listening activities, watching movies, etc. Themes will be introduced through essential questions and course work will allow students to absorb information in the target language about target cultures in order to explore and respond to these questions.

My ideal is for this course to be a two-year course during which there is more time to investigate the different sub-themes. For the purposes of this syllabus, I have created a one-year course and have chosen one or two sub-themes for each AP theme. At the end of each unit, I give students the opportunity to explore whichever of the remaining sub-themes they find most interesting on their own.

September

Unit 1- Families and Communities

Within the context of just one year for the AP course, I have chosen one main sub-theme to focus on: Childhood and Adolescence. In addition, we broaden the theme a bit and spend a few days on the sub-theme Family during the final week of the unit, when students have the opportunity to choose one of the other AP sub-themes to explore independently; they then present the results of the investigation to the class.

I want the students to be able to answer the following questions by the end of this theme:

- A part les cours traditionnels à l'école, quels genres d'expériences contribuent à l'éducation d'un enfant?
- Quelles sont les caractéristiques générales d'une famille?

In order to explore these questions, we will be using these main resources:

Sub-theme: Childhood and Adolescence

1. “L’institut Diambars: Première structure de sports études.” (Thèmes pp 6-7) Article about the Institut Diambars at Saly beach near Dakar, Senegal. This institute trains young soccer players and also guarantees them a quality education.
 - a. Summative assessment: Interpersonal writing. Students write an email to the Institut Diambars as if they are a young Senegalese soccer player. In the email they present their qualifications and apply to be accepted in the Institute. (Thèmes, p. 8, exercise 4)
2. “Une Jeunesse solidaire.” (Thèmes pp 10-11) Excerpt from an article about volunteering among young people, This article was written based on a study about commitment/engagement among young people. In the study, it becomes clear that young people are engaging more and more in volunteer work, in part to develop professional skills, but also for its intrinsic satisfaction.
 - a. Summative assessment: Presentational speaking/ Cultural comparison (Thèmes, p. 13 exercise 7): Quelle est l'attitude des gens envers l'engagement social et le bénévolat? Préparez une présentation orale dans laquelle vous répondez à cette question en comparant l'attitude générale de votre communauté et celle d'un pays ou d'une région francophone. Vous pouvez faire référence à ce que vous avez étudié, vécu, ou observé.

3. “Entre les murs--Interview du réalisateur.” (Thèmes p. 14). In this audio interview from TV5 Monde, director Laurent Cantet--winner of the Palme d’Or at the 61st Cannes film festival for his film Entre les murs--talks about the importance of education in France and its mission today.
 - a. Summative assessment: Presentational writing (Thèmes p. 15, exercice 4): Essai de réflexion et de synthèse. De quelle manière les activités scolaires et extrascolaires (comme les arts, le sport ou le bénévolat) contribuent-elles au bien-être d'un jeune?

Sub-theme: Family

1. Interpersonal speaking: Conversation dirigée. Thèmes: contexte 6, p. 59.
2. “Ménages selon la structure familiale” (Thèmes p. 59). This chart from the Institut national de la statistique et des études économiques (INSEE) shows the percentage of different types of couples in France according to family structure.
 - b. Summative assessment: Research/presentational writing (Thèmes p. 59, exercice 2). Students each chose a francophone country to adopt at the beginning of the year. This assignment allows them to reference that country: Cherchez des statistiques sur les différents types de familles pour un autre pays francophone. Ecrivez un paragraphe dans lequel vous comparez la situation dans ce pays et celle en France.

Fin d’unité

After having the students explore the remaining sub-themes they are interested in at the end of the unit, I end with a short-subject film connected with the theme.

- Court métrage 1: On s’embrasse (Thèmes pp. 60-62). In this short film directed by Pierre Olivier, a young woman has an important meeting. She arrives early and goes into a café to pass the time. While there, she notices a man alone at a table and decides to ask him for a favor.
 - One sample activity for use after viewing the film (Thèmes p. 62 ex. 4)
- Un script pour une scène de rupture. Avec un(e) camarade de classe, créez votre propre script pour une scène de rupture au cinéma. Rédigez la mise en scène d'un couple en phase de rupture. Précisez les motivations et les sentiments des personnages. Vous pouvez vous inspirer d'un film que vous avez déjà vu. Ensuite, jouez la scène pour le reste de la classe.

Unit 2 – Science and Technology

As stated above, I have limited time for each theme, so I choose one main sub-theme as my focus. For the Science and Technology theme, I have chosen the sub-theme Discoveries and Inventions. In order to broaden the theme, I also spend a few days on the sub-theme Future Technologies. During the final week of the unit, students have the opportunity to choose one of the other AP sub-themes to explore independently; they then present the results of the investigation to the class.

I want the students to be able to answer the following questions by the end of this theme:

- Quelles conditions favorisent ou empêchent la découverte de nouvelles inventions?
- Quelles sont les technologies d'avenir et pourquoi doit-on les développer?

In order to explore these questions, we will be using these main resources:

Sub-theme: Discoveries and Inventions

1. “Un jeune Camerounais invente le Cardiopad.” Thèmes pp 80-82. This article is about Arthur Zang, a young Cameroonian computer engineer who has invented an extraordinary medical device: a medical tablet.
 - a. Summative assessment: Presentational Speaking (Thèmes, p. 83 ex. 4):
D'après l'article, Arthur Zang produit une machine mobile qui permettra de faire des échographies à distance. Faites une présentation orale pour répondre aux questions et exprimer votre opinion sur ce projet.
 - Pourquoi cette invention vous semble-t-elle utile en Afrique?
 - Quel(s) problème(s) vise-t-elle à résoudre?
 - Quels obstacles Arthur Zang doit-il surmonter avant de commercialiser son invention?
2. Excerpt from Jules Verne De la terre à la lune. Thèmes pp. 84-86. In this excerpt, the Parisian character Michel Ardan tries to convince Barbicane, president of the Gun-Club of Baltimore, as well as his rival, Captain Nicholl, to embark together on an adventure into space. In this excerpt there is a detailed description of the technology needed for the three men to travel to the moon.
 - a. Formative assessment: Interpersonal speaking/ Cultural comparison. NASA et CNES. (Thèmes, p. 87, ex. 5). Speaking in French, students work in small groups to do research about NASA and CNES, using guiding questions provided by the textbook as a basis for their research and conversation.
 - b. Summative assessment: Interpersonal Writing (Thèmes, p. 88, ex. 9):
Email à NASA: NASA prépare un projet de colonisation de Mars et cherche des volontaires. Ecrivez un email au directeur de la mission dans lequel vous présentez votre candidature. Dans votre e-mail, expliquez: les raisons pour lesquelles vous voulez habiter Mars, vos attributs personnels qui font de vous un excellent candidat, ce que vous pourriez apporter à la mission. N'oubliez pas d'utiliser les formules de politesse et un registre formel dans votre e-mail.

3. Audio: "A quoi ressemblera la voiture du futur?" Thèmes pp 89-90. This debate about the car of the future comes from the program "Les décodeurs de l'éco" from BFMTV, a 24-hour French news station. The host, Fabrice Lundy, discusses pollution, alternative energy, and the ideal car with a transportation specialist and representatives of different automakers.
 - a. Summative assessment: Presentational Writing (Thèmes p. 90 ex. 3). Using the readings and audio from this sub-theme, write an essay in which you explore these questions, or others that you consider important:
 - A travers quelles étapes une idée passe-t-elle avant de se transformer en invention?
 - Comment les inventions répondent-elles aux besoins de la société?
 - Quels sont les défis auxquels une invention fait face avant de voir le jour ou d'être commercialisée?

 - a. Formative assessment: Interpersonal speaking. Students work together to analyze the graph and answer the questions.

Fin d'unité

After having the students explore the remaining sub-themes they are interested in at the end of the unit, I end with a short-subject film connected with the theme.

- Court métrage 2: Découverte: Le Solar impulse (Thèmes pp. 120-122). In this report we discover a Swiss solar plane that might someday revolutionize aeronautics.
 - One sample activity for use after viewing the film (Thèmes p. 122 ex. 4)
- Une autre invention. Faites des recherches sur Internet pour trouver des informations sur un inventeur francophone célèbre et sur une de ses inventions (récente ou non).
Préparez une présentation dans laquelle vous présenter cet inventeur et son invention.
Expliquez clairement les circonstances de la création de cette invention et précisez ses caractéristiques.

November/December

Unit 3 - Beauty and Aesthetics

For the Beauty and Aesthetic theme, I have chosen the sub-theme of Literature as my main focus. In order to broaden the theme, I also spend a few days on the sub-theme of Architecture. During the final week of the unit, students have the opportunity to choose one of the other AP sub-themes to explore independently; they then present the results of the investigation to the class.

I want the students to be able to answer the following questions by the end of this theme:

- A quoi sert la littérature dans le monde contemporain?
- Quelles influences une oeuvre littéraire peut-elle avoir sur l'individu et la société?
- La beauté est-elle une caractéristique intrinsèque de l'architecture ou est-elle une affaire de goût?

In order to explore these questions, we will be using these main resources:

Sub-theme: Literature

1. "Ma langue grand-maternelle." (Thèmes p. 153-155) Interview from Le Figaro littéraire with Andreï Makine, a French-language writer of Russian origin. In this interview, Makine speaks about literature, language, and differences that exist between Russian and French.
 - a. Summative assessment: Interpersonal Writing (Thèmes p. 156 ex. 7). Students write an email to Andreï Makine based on the interview they have read: Choisissez deux idées importantes de l'interview et écrivez un courriel à Andreï Makine dans lequel vous lui demandez plus d'explication sur ces points. N'oubliez pas de vous présenter au début et de le remercier à la fin de votre message. Utilisez un registre soutenu pour écrire à cet auteur que vous ne connaissez pas.
2. Victor Hugo, Les Misérables (excerpt). (Thèmes pp 157-159). This excerpt is taken from the beginning of Les Misérables. It gives us a detailed portrait of the main character, Jean Valjean.
 - a. Summative assessment: Presentational speaking (Thèmes p. 161 ex. 6).
Les livres tels que Les Misérables, dans lesquels des héros innocents souffrent à cause d'injustices sociales ou personnelles, sont très populaires parce qu'ils touchent le public. Pensez à un roman similaire que vous avez lu et qui fait aussi une critique sociale. Préparez un exposé dans lequel vous répondez aux questions:
 1. Quel est le titre de ce roman? Qui l'a écrit et à quelle époque?
 2. Quel est le sujet du roman? Comment reflète-t-il la culture de son époque?
 3. Pourquoi avez-vous lu ce roman? Pour un cours, ou bien pour votre propre plaisir?
 4. Pourquoi est-ce que ce roman vous a particulièrement touché(e)?
 5. Quels sont les thèmes que ce roman a en commun avec Les Misérables?

3. Audio: Interview avec Maryse Condé (Thèmes p 162). In this interview, drawn from the weekly program from TV5Monde entitled “7 jours sur la planète,” the French writer born in Guadeloupe Maryse Condé speaks of identity, of the evolution of her characters, and of that which she believes all human beings have in common.

- a. Summative assessment: Presentational speaking/Cultural comparison (Thèmes p. 163 ex. 3).

En utilisant tout ce que vous avez appris au sujet de Maryse Condé, cherchez des informations sur une écrivaine des Etats-Unis qui lui ressemble (par exemple, par l'âge, le style de vie, ou les thèmes littéraires). Ensuite, préparez une présentation pour la classe dans laquelle vous comparez et contrastez les deux écrivaines. Utilisez ces points pour organiser votre présentation:

- Evoquez les similarités et les différences entre les deux écrivaines.
- Comparez les thèmes principaux dans leurs oeuvres.
- Donnez des informations sur une oeuvre semblable à En attendant la montée des eaux.

- Summative assessment for the sub-theme of Literature: Presentational writing (Thèmes p. 163 ex. 4):
- Analyse: Les trois écrivains que vous avez découverts au cours de ce contexte écrivent pour des raisons différentes. Ecrivez un essai dans lequel vous répondez à la question: Pourquoi les auteurs écrivent-il, ou à quoi ça sert d'écrire?

Sub-theme: Architecture

For this sub-theme, Thèmes offers different points of entry into knowledge of and appreciation of architecture, from the requirements for a lodging to be habitable by humans to world-famous architecture to different styles of architecture, both in students’ own communities and around the world. In my class, students will engage in discussions and research involving these different aspects of the sub-theme.

Below I have chosen to highlight two activities that prepare students for tasks on the AP French Language and Culture examination, one to launch the sub-theme (the conversation dirigée) and the second (the persuasive essay) as a summative assessment to wrap things up..

1. Interpersonal speaking: Conversation dirigée. Thèmes: contexte 5, p. 179.
2. Summative assessment: Presentational Writing Thèmes p. 180 ex. 2. In my class, students are encouraged to choose an architect from their adopted francophone country to complete this activity.
 - a. Description persuasive: Faites des recherches sur Internet sur un(e) architecte francophone. Choisissez quelques-unes de ses œuvres que vous trouvez intéressantes et écrivez un essai dans lequel vous les décrivez tout en essayant de convaincre votre lecteur de leur beauté. A quels styles d’architecture ces œuvres appartiennent-elles? Quelle est la fonction de chacune? A votre avis, ces œuvres sont-elles universellement belles? Comment reflètent-elles leur époque et la culture de la région où elles se trouvent?

Vous pouvez écrire un essai sur un(e) des architectes ci-dessous ou sur un(e) autre architecte francophone de votre choix.

- Louis le Vau (France)
- Renée Gailhousetet (France)
- Odile Decq (France)
- Etienne Gaboury (Canada)
- Victor Horta (Belgique)
- Diébédo Francis Kéré (Burkina Faso)

Fin d'unité

After having the students explore the remaining sub-themes they are interested in at the end of the unit, I end with a short-subject film connected with the theme.

- Court métrage 3: Le Petit Cyrano (Thèmes pp. 182-184). In this film, written and directed by Thibault Mombellet, we encounter a theater director who falls in love with the actress playing Roxane in the production of Cyrano de Bergerac which he is directing.
 - One sample activity for use after viewing the film (Thèmes p. 184 ex. 5)

Vous êtes Cyrano! Composez un poème ou une lettre d'amour que vous pourriez écrire à votre âme soeur. Inspirez-vous des paroles de Cyrano, de ses sentiments, et parlez des attentions qui vous touchent.

January

Unit 4 – Contemporary Life

For the Contemporary Life theme, I have chosen the sub-theme of Travel as my main focus. In order to broaden the theme and to make a connection with our previous sub-theme of Architecture in Unit 3, I also spend a few days on the sub-theme of Housing/Shelter. During the final week of the unit, students have the opportunity to choose one of the other AP sub-themes to explore independently; they then present the results of the investigation to the class.

I want the students to be able to answer the following questions by the end of this theme:

- Comment les voyages influencent-ils notre façon de voir le monde?
- En quoi les logements reflètent-ils les besoins de la société?

In order to explore these questions, we will be using these main resources:

Sub-theme: Travel

1. “Salut, les parents!” (Thèmes pp 215-216) This text is an email written by the couple Pauline and Kevin to Pauline’s parents. In the email, they write about their experiences and adventures while on vacation in Burgundy.

- a. Summative assessment: Interpersonal Writing Thèmes p. 218 ex. 9. Students choose a city or region in their adopted francophone country that they would like to visit, and they do research about that. They then imagine that they are taking this trip and write an email to a family member or friend:

Un mail. Vous êtes en train de faire ce voyage auquel vous avez tant aspiré. Ecrivez un message électronique à un membre de votre famille ou à un(e) ami(e) pour lui raconter votre excursion, lui en donner votre opinion personnelle, et lui expliquer l'influence qu'elle aura probablement sur votre vie et sur votre façon de voir le monde. Vous pouvez vous inspirer du message de Pauline.

- Expansion possibility: Turn this into an opportunity for a formal email by having students write to the manager of their hotel saying that they left something behind.

2. “Un médecin sans frontières” (Thèmes pp 219-221). This text is the transcript of an online chat between a few internets users and Alexandre, a young French doctor working in a hospital in Haiti under the auspices of Doctors Without Borders.

Essai. Peut-on dire que ce que l'on apprend à travers une expérience personnelle est plus profond, plus mémorable et plus enrichissant que ce qu'on apprend dans un contexte académique? Si c'est le cas, dans quelle mesure?

3. Audio: “Tourisme et écotourisme au Laos.” (Thèmes pp 224-5). This audio clip is taken from a report by Alain Devalpo for Radio France Internationale (RFI). In this report, Devalpo presents an eco-village in Laos which offers a model of sustainable tourism.

- a. Formative assessment: Interpersonal speaking. Thèmes p. 224 ex. 3.

Le Laos. A deux, cherchez une carte du Laos sur Internet. Trouvez la capitale, Vientiane, la rivière Nam Lik et les pays avec lesquels le Laos partage ses frontières. Ensuite, faites des recherches sur les caractéristiques géographiques du pays. Pourquoi croyez-vous que l'écotourisme s'y développe?

- Summative assessment for the sub-theme: Presentational Speaking (Thèmes p. 225, ex. 3):

Comment les voyages enrichissent-ils la qualité de vie? En vous basant sur ce que vous avez appris dans ce contexte et vos expériences personnelles, préparez une présentation orale pour répondre à cette question.

After having the students explore the remaining sub-themes they are interested in at the end of the unit, I end with a short-subject film connected with the theme.

➤ Court métrage 4: Sois mignonne (Thèmes pp. 242-244). Written and directed by Julien Guiol. Carole is a young woman with a degree who is looking for a good job. After having done myriad internships and jobs that lead nowhere, she is beginning to despair.

- One sample activity for use after viewing the film (Thèmes p. 244 ex. 3)

Recherches et présentation orale. Faites des recherches sur Internet au sujet du chômage en France et aux Etats-Unis pour pouvoir répondre aux questions suivantes. Préparez une présentation orale dans laquelle vous présentez les résultats de vos recherches. Comparez la situation en France et dans votre pays.

1. Quelle est la situation actuelle en ce qui concerne le chômage en France? Qu'en est-il aux Etats-Unis?
2. Que font les gouvernements des deux pays pour lutter contre le chômage?
3. Parmi les mesures prises par ces gouvernements, lesquelles visent surtout le chômage des jeunes?

During the final week of the unit, students have the opportunity to choose one of the other AP sub-themes to explore independently; they then present the results of the investigation to the class.

I want the students to be able to answer the following questions by the end of this theme:

- Comment les membres d'une société peuvent-ils encourager la tolérance?
- Comment la société protège-t-elle les droits de l'être humain?

In order to explore these questions, we will be using these main resources:

Sub-theme: Diversity Issues

Unit 6 – Personal and Public Identities

For the Personal and Public Identities theme, I have chosen the sub-theme of Alienation and Assimilation as my main focus. This theme ties closely in with the Diversity Issues sub-theme in unit 5 above. In order to broaden the theme, I also spend a few days on the sub-theme of Beliefs and Values. During the final week of the unit, students have the opportunity to choose one of the other AP sub-themes to explore independently; they then present the results of the investigation to the class.

I want the students to be able to answer the following questions by the end of this theme:

- Quels sont les effets du racisme et de l'aliénation sur la société et les individus?
- Comment peut-on fusionner des groupes d'individus aux identités culturelles diverses et plurielles en une unité social cohésive?

In order to explore these questions, we will be using these main resources:

Sub-theme: Alienation and assimilation

Formative assessment for the sub-theme: Interpersonal Writing (Thèmes p. 311 ex. 4). Students write an email giving advice to a person coming to their community from abroad as to how that person can best adapt.

Conseils. *Quels conseils pourriez-vous donner à une personne d'origine étrangère voulant s'établir dans votre pays mais ayant des difficultés à s'adapter à la culture et au style de vie? Quelles sont les meilleures stratégies pour apprendre la langue et s'intégrer culturellement? 1. “L’homme qui te ressemble,” René Philombe (Thèmes pp 311-312). This poem is by René Philombe, the nom de plume of Philippe Louis Obédé, a Cameroonian writer, journalist, poet, novelist, and playwright. It is one of the most famous of his poems, calling on people to go beyond what separates us and to emphasize tolerance and generosity.

- a. Summative assessment: Presentational Writing. Essai comparatif (Thèmes p. 314 ex. 7)

Essai comparatif. Choisissez une des deux citations ci-dessous et comparez-la au poème de René Philombe. Ecrivez un essai en expliquant ce que cette citation veut dire, puis précisez si son message est similaire, opposé, ou complémentaire à celui du poème. Enfin, justifiez pourquoi vous l’avez choisie et si elle vous plaît ou pas.

- Françoise Héritier: “En premier lieu, il nous faut bien comprendre qu’être différent ne veut pas dire inégal. Le contraire de différent est semblable, même. Le contraire d’inégal est égal et non pas semblable. En voyant dans la différence la marque d’une inégalité, nous faisons faire un pas de côté à la langue sans nous interroger. Nous avons changé de registre, philosophiquement parlant, car la différence n’implique pas l’inégalité.”

- Albert Jacquard: "La solidarité existe-t-elle encore ou bien sommes-nous en perpétuelle confrontation les uns envers les autres? Alors que les différences nous inquiètent, pourquoi ne pas les transformer en force pour nous mener plus loin dans nos échanges, le plus naturellement possible et partager notre authenticité en toute modestie!"
2. "Le Racisme expliqué à ma fille," Tahar Ben Jelloun - excerpt. (Thèmes pp 315-317). Ben Jelloun had the idea of writing this text while participating with his daughter in a demonstration about immigration. The basis for this text is the idea that racism can be combatted by education, especially the education of children. This text thus principally addresses children and young people. It is written in dialog format.
- a. Summative assessment: Interpersonal Writing. Thèmes p 319 ex. 6
Des conseils. Choisissez un événement ou un incident de caractère raciste de l'actualité ou du passé récent et écrivez une lettre à votre journal quotidien pour exprimer votre opinion. Evoquez ces points dans votre e-mail:
 - la description de l'événement
 - votre réaction
 - votre analyse des raisons pour lesquelles l'incident a eu lieu
 - des suggestions pour éviter de tels incidents à l'avenir
3. Audio: "Le racisme: Mode d'emploi." Thèmes p. 320. This recording is excerpted from RFI/ Radio France Internationale's program Livre France, which presents a new book written about current French politics each Sunday. In this excerpt, journalist Sylvie Koffi interviews activist Rokhaya Diallo about her book Racisme: mode d'emploi, a work that analyses the history of racist thought in France.
- a. Summative assessment: Presentational Speaking. Thèmes p 321 ex. 4. (In my class, students base their oral reports on the francophone country they adopted at the beginning of the year.)
Minorités. Faites des recherches sur une minorité dans un pays francophone et préparez une présentation orale sur le sujet. Décrivez les gens qui la composent, le lieu où ils vivent et ce qui les distingue du reste de la population. Mentionnez aussi les problèmes d'assimilation ou d'intégration que ces gens peuvent avoir ou les discriminations auxquelles ils doivent faire face. Vous pouvez vous renseigner sur les exemples suivants ou sur tout autre groupe qui vous semble intéressant:
 - des minorités régionales qui ont une langue traditionnelle différente du français, comme les Bretons ou les Basques pour la France
 - des groupes issus de l'histoire coloniale, comme les pieds-noirs en France
 - des immigrés récents, par exemple venant du Maghreb, de l'Europe de l'Est ou de l'Afrique subsaharienne
 - des minorités religieuses
 - des groupes sociaux qui sont confrontés à des problèmes de discrimination, comme les femmes ou les jeunes

Sub-theme: Beliefs and Values

1. Interpersonal speaking: Conversation dirigée. Thèmes: contexte 5, p. 361.
2. "Les moins de 35 ans." (Thèmes p. 361 ex. 1) Radio France performed a survey about young people's values. This table shows the top three values for young people in Switzerland, France, Canada, and Belgium.
 - a. Formative assessment: Interpersonal speaking. Students work together to analyze the table and answer the questions.

Fin d'unité

After having the students explore the remaining sub-themes they are interested in at the end of the unit, I end with a short-subject film connected with the theme.

- Court métrage 6: Rien à dire (Thèmes pp. 363-365). Directed by Vincent Pérez, this short film tells the story of Charles, a taciturn young man. He does not enjoy getting involved in conversations, whether with friends or strangers. His friends actually worry about his silence. However, he has an impressive talent that no one has known about until now...
- One sample activity for use after viewing the film (Thèmes p. 365 ex. 4)

Essai. Faut-il se méfier des gens introvertis qui parlent très peu? Ecrivez un essai pour répondre à cette question. Présentez les deux points de vue et défendez votre opinion personnelle en donnant des exemples pour la soutenir. Structurez votre essai ainsi:

- une introduction qui présente brièvement les deux points de vue et votre opinion personnelle
- un paragraphe avec les arguments soutenant votre point de vue
- un paragraphe avec les arguments défendant l'autre point de vue et votre réfutation de chacun
- une conclusion qui réaffirme votre opinion

DIVERSITY STATEMENT

Strategies to increase and maintain enrollment and success of diverse and at-risk students in Advanced Placement French Language & Culture

The College Board Equity and Access Policy:

"The College Board strongly encourages educators to make equitable access a guiding principle for their AP programs by giving all willing and academically prepared students the opportunity to participate in AP. We encourage the elimination of barriers that restrict access to AP for students from ethnic, racial and socioeconomic groups that have been traditionally underserved. Schools should make every effort to ensure their AP classes reflect the diversity of their student population. The College Board also believes that all students should have access to academically challenging coursework before they enroll in AP classes, which can prepare them for AP success. It is only through a commitment to equitable preparation and access that true equity and excellence can be achieved."

An Advanced Placement language course should be open to all willing students. In order to give all students access to AP-level quality instruction, we will begin with vertical teaming from level 1 through AP (including articulation between middle-school and high-school programs) to ensure that students are learning the skills and content they need to be successful. A variety of techniques that increase student engagement, mainly via authentic sources, should be central to the entire French language and culture program.

The following are some specific strategies that we will employ beginning in level I:

- constant use of a variety of formative assessments that will allow students the opportunity to practice and perfect their skills in a positive learning environment;
- consistent use of level-appropriate authentic sources and a variety of audio/video materials that will captivate and motivate students and introduce all students to the skills that will be needed at the AP level;
- use of Total Physical Response and collaborative storytelling (TPRS) as part of group of strategies to build engagement and fluency;
- use of high-frequency vocabulary and compelling comprehensible input to build engagement and fluency;
- use of embedded readings using authentic texts in order to build reading fluency (see embeddedreading.com);
- greater focus on the more than thirty-seven different countries of the Francophonie rather than merely on continental France to mirror and value students' own diverse backgrounds;
- real-life activities and ways that students can use the language and culture, such as exchange programs, an active French club, pen-pal or epal programs, film festivals, field trips, guest speakers, participation in National French Week and the Grand Concours, etc.
- use of project-based and open-ended assessments to allow students to use their own talents and multiple intelligences to individualize their learning;
- use of AVID strategies, such as Cornell note-taking, collaborative learning groups, and the inquiry learning method;
- development of a support system for struggling students via after-school coaching and peer tutoring;
- positive rapport with families via direct contact with parents about AP potential and student progress beginning at the early levels.
